Our Training and Certification Programs

Do you ever feel like you could do so much better if other people would just understand you? We know from coaching individuals and businesses that nothing is as detrimental to your own career or your awesome business idea as bad communication either between your teams or with your clients! Indeed, more and more individuals and businesses realize that you can do better by improving communication and workflow. And thus, demand for trainings is skyrocketing. New research based psychological methods find that once you understand your own inner drive you can understand other's motivation and communication profiles. With this powerful tool you are at the top of your game and are able to communicate to others just in the way that their psychological profile filters information.

During our trainings you receive the full attention you need to maximize your learnings and become the most powerful you! Our trainings have limited seats and deliver a theoretical foundation integrated with many practical applications, so that you can practice your new skill set right then and there. Setting goals and combining your new skills from the newest and most advanced psychological mechanics with your awesome self will put you at the top of the success board! Check out our current training schedule and sign up today!

Unlocking Individuality

This intense one-day training opens up the world to inner drives and motivation. You learn how colliding drivers can negatively impact your staff, volunteers, or counseling clients. Then, we will teach you how to identify differences and improve your staff selection, counseling, and team effectiveness. This training is especially useful for people in leadership positions, HR professionals, team leaders, and therapists. Take Action Now! ENROLL or Read more ... Unlocking Individuality

Reiss Motivation Profile® Master Certification Training

The Reiss Motivation Profile® reveals who you are, what motivates you, your deepest values, and how you are likely to react to numerous situations and various people. It is the most valuable tool for HR directors, employers, and mental health professionals. This three-day training course certifies you to become a Reiss Profile Master which allows you to utilize the assessment in your work place. Take Action Now! ENROLL or Read more ...

Keys to Mastering Your Success

This two-day training is targeted towards people who want more out of life. We will help you line up your inner drivers with your goals, practice goal setting techniques, and improve your communication skills. We help you get focused. Whether you feel stuck in life, looking for the right kind of job, want to branch out, or want to reach higher, this course will empower you! Take Action Now! ENROLL or Read more ... Keys to Mastering Your Success

Our Training Schedule

LOCATION	DATE	TRAINING
Contact us to schedule this event in your organization!	upon request	Unlocking Individuality
Contact us to schedule this event in your organization!	upon request	Keys to Mastering Your Success
Madrid, Spain	May 20-22, 2019	Reiss Motivation Profile Master Certification Training
Herndon, VA	June 3-5, 2019	Reiss Motivation Profile Master Certification Training

Enroll Here

News

28.08.2017

What are you waiting for?

Dear Abby was a syndicated column which was popular in many newspapers throughout my childhood and young adulthood. It consisted of common sense answers to everyday problems. I read Dear Abby faithfully. There was one

Read more … What are you waiting for?

26.06.2017

What motivates us to succeed? The story of Jake the student, or your employee:

Jake was 12 and in the 5th grade. Upon recommendation of his kindergarten teacher and agreement from his parents, he had been "held back" to repeat kindergarten. The main concern wasn't his academic ability, but Jake seemed timid.

Read more … What motivates us to succeed? The story of Jake the student, or your employee:

12.04.2017

You'll find what you look for

You will always find that upon which you focus, you'll find it if you look for it. We live in a society where we are bombarded with illness. Just for fun, the next time you are watching daytime or evening television, keep score on the number of commercials advertising an illness.

Read more … You'll find what you look for 12.01.2017

True story about Sadie:

Sadie's adoptive parents, school principal, kindergarten teacher, and the team of special education professionals are having a meeting regarding Sadie's potential special education needs. Sadie has a diagnosis of Autism and, after having Sadie in the classroom for the past 3 months...

Read more … True story about Sadie:

08.11.2016

If I like it, you do too

Company B is a medium sized retail business. The company has, among its employee motivation programs, a "salesperson of the week" award which is announced at the Monday morning sales team meetings. The company also recognizes employees who make a positive contribution of ideas or who receive kudos from clients.

Read more … If I like it, you do too

29.09.2016

True story about Alice:

When Alice was in the 2nd grade, she had a great teacher, especially skilled in teaching reading skills to her young students. Alice seemed to be a bright child, easily commanded and exceeded the basics of reading at her grade level, and she was very sociable with her peers.

Read more … True story about Alice: